The Alaska Railroad has budgeted approximately $49 million in new spending for capital improvements in 2012. An additional $68 million is budgeted for two special rail extension projects. Funding comes from federal, state and ARRC sources. About $11.76 million will come from new Federal Transit Administration (FTA) grants. This amount includes a required 9% matching contribution from the Alaska Railroad. Other federal funding includes $1.26 million in Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)-administered grants, $1.43 million from the Federal Railroad Administration (FRA), and $295,000 from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS). A $2.7 million settlement will repair deficient track work originally paid by federal grants. The railroad will also spend about $8 million of funds generated from the sale of revenue bonds that were sold in 2006 and 2007; bonds are repaid with FTA formula funds. ARRC will spend another $23.5 million on internally-funded capital projects using revenues generated from passenger, freight and real estate business activity. Finally, the State of Alaska appropriated FY2012 budget funds to support two major rail extension projects. $44 million was approved mid-2011 to close the funding gap for Phase 1 of the Northern Rail Extension; and ARRC will manage $24 million of the $30 million approved mid-2011 to pursue Port MacKenzie Rail Extension construction.
